Advent of Carpet-Bagger Leatie of Brooks Ivn-How an Alliany Assemblyman Fonth-ered his Nest-Will Congressmen Ponder Over these Startling Pacts.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 28, 1871 .- A very good Bustration of the resurdity of the system of carpetbag government is contained in three lines of the Phante of this morning, as follows: "Ennator Leslie of Barnwell district, after a reci-dence in Columbia of nearly two years, has removed to Charleston."

State, and it has the honor of being represented in the Senate by the Hen. C. P. Leslie, formerly of Brooklyn, and who is the gentleman referred to above. How Senator Leslie can very well rep esent Barnwell county when he has no residence there, and so far as is known owns no property among his constituents, is a problem that can only be successfully solved by your genuine carpet-bag-ger. He makes the effort, however, and certainly

A BROOKLYN VULTURE. Not a movement is instituted, not a grab set on foot, but the sleek and sharp-cut Leslie is seen hovering o'er it. He is the same gentleman who repreat the time of the Callicott bargain and sale, and who shared something of the latter's political oo varm in Prooklyn for the Janus-fuced legislator: so he dritted off down here without money ext to Parker, the Treasurer, Leslie is pow the est carpet bagger in South Carolina. He has en in every plundering scheme devised since the advent of carpet-baggery, and has come out of every one loaded with money. His greatest had was worse Superintendent of Public Lands.

Patterson, a langer-on about the state floure, lamitarly known as "Honest John No. L" and other vultures of the biackest kind formed the body itself, and soon a million dellars Scuta Carolina bands were sent to New York for hypothecition to ruse capital upon which tals enterprising real estate firm could commence business. Seven hundred trousand collars were raised, and with this sum the Commission commenced buying lands. They purchased everything right and left that they could juy their bands on, and did it in suca a way that every transaction cost the State thousands of dollars more than it should. Each member of the Commission had his private real estate agency, and through that heavy commissions were made, and also his private lawyer whose duty it was to examine titles and Linds were purchased at $5 and $9 in acre, whose owners rever received more than $2 is $5 an acre, it teing understood at the time of the size that the owner must acknowledge the higher rice or the Commission would not purchase. To arry on the negatiations in this way the Commission required the services of hordes of clerks, midlemen, and understrappers of all aorts and kinds, and it found them in great plenty in the persons of sensitive clerks and lobby valuers. Indeed, as ong as the $700,000 midd, it seemed as if the whole the Government of South Carolina had gone into the real estate thusiness, and that every resident of the State had acres to sell by the thousands, cets it may seem singular that the owners I hand should lend their aid to such schemes, CHARGE SEVENTEEN PRICES

The noble Econicr launched out in display, and exhibited evidences or wealth which every one knew must have been suddenly acquired. Where are to lands purchased at these frightful figures? the people asked of each other, and finally the mutterings reached the ears of Gov. Scott, who instituted an inquiry, with the result as above described. The Governor lound the business of the Land Combines in to be about as follows:

The Governor's first act was to nick out Lesine, and his second to make a latter creaty in him. His third was to suspend the Commeston, and sak for a fegislative examination into its acts. Leste tought this in the Senace with his whole power, but finally when he saw that the Committee would be appointed he rose in his seat, and with a fearful demonstration of the Governor, and a thrade of aluse against the press and those who had exposed the cormous fruits, demanded as Chairman of the Committee. Sr. John's, N. F., March 80 .- After a lapse of more than twenty years of general unprogressiveness and poverty, the dull city of pt. A steamship, the Nimrod, belonging to Job Brothers & Co. was said to be in the bay, awaiting wind enough to bear her into the narbor of St. John's, as her boilers were unavailable, the bunkers being literally stuffed with seal skine. On her arrival we learned that her precious cargo was 28,000 seuls-the largest number ever known to have been

A Government Buily's Assault on Jay

Gould-Arrest of the Scoundrel-A Night in the Cells of a Pelice Station. About ten days ago Judge Blatchford, of the United States District Court, issued an order of injunction, directed to Jay Gould, President of the Erie Railway, restraining the Erie Company from issuing any more stock or convertible bonds pending the proceedings before the United States Courts. This injunction was placed in the hands of a Deputy United States Marshal, with instructions to serve it on Jay Gould. By a mistake the order was served on a Mr. Lake. When it was ascertained that a mistake had been made, the papers were given to a Deputy United States Marshal named George B. Purvis, of 6 Beach street, a locality better known as "Hash row." Marshal Sharpe gave Purvis orders to be sure and get the right man this time, and to serve the lightestion with all the despatch possible.

Eighto avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, he overtook him, and pointing him out to Officer horse, of the West Twentieth street police station, ordered the officer to arrest him. Purvis declared himself a United States officer, and claimed immunity from arrest. The puliceman, however, took him to the station house, and Mr. Gould preferred a charge of assault against him, and he was locked up. Toward midnight Marshal Sharpe called at the station house and offered bail for Purvis. Capt, McDermott was not empowered to receive bail, and Furvis passed the night in a cell. Yesterday morning he was taken before Justice shandley at the Jefferson Market Folice Court. He waived an examination, and was held in $500 bail.

WHAT AN FYE-WITNESS SATS.

The assault on Mr. Gould was witnessed by a large number of persons. One of the gentlemen who were lookers-on during the difficulty gave a bith reporter the following version of the affair:
Shortly after the performance had commenced Mr. Gould and Mr. Fisk were scated in a private box. Mr. Good subsequently left his seat and walked to the vestion e. While he was absent, a man who had forced his way through the long passage leading toward the orchestra, observed Mr. Gould in the vestibule, and rushed headlong through the concourse that blucked up the bassage. On recching the spot where Mr. Gould stood, he resched on his hand and caught Mr. Gould by the collar, awhights him round and shasing him. Mr. Gould seemed to believe that the object of the intruder was robbery, and he kept his hand on his watch. I followed the min because I thought he intended to assassinate Mr. Gould. When Mr. Gould was cohared, he remonstrated with the man, and asked him what he meant. He rapited:

"I am a United States office," and be then thrust a paper in Mr. Gould's "I can be found at any time, and I am received any paper, but you have no right to treat me roughly."

Mr. Gould ston called an officer and had the fellow arrested.

What the Marshall is going to be.

What the marshal is coing to do.

Deputy Marshal Purvis was examined yesterday by Marshal Sharpe in relation to the affair. Purvis denied that he essablied Mr. Gould, and he added that he applicated to Mr. Gould, for taking the by the arm, which he says was merely accidental. After hearing the statement of rurvis, Marshal Haut cyled on Judge Weedruff and the Hon. A. H. Pandy, and was closed with both officials for an lour and a half. The result of the interview has not leaked out, but it is known that the case is to be transferred to the United States Cours by means of a writ of habeas corpus should Purvis be precised for held appearing for trial defore a State Court.

The meanness of Grant's officials.

The five Drived States Deputy Marshals who went to the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening to assist in the serving of Judge Eletchtord's injunction on Mr. Gould found that the deveration of Mr. Gould found that the deveration of the price of admission, and they accordingly applied to one of the office, and they accordingly applied to one of the office, at the theatrs for free tickets, which were winningly given to them, under the supposition that they were simply desirous of Witnessing the performance. LOST IN THE METROPOLIS WHERE IS THE MISSING GIRL OF WILLIAMSBURGH .

A Visit to her Parents-Playing Hookey from School-Lost in the Great City-"You'll only Find my Body by Ruking the East River"-" Mother, Pray for Me." No tidings have yet been received from Annio Olustead, the Williamsburgh settoel girl, an account of whose mysterious disappearance from her home on Monday last was given in yesterday's SUN. A Sun reporter called at the bome of her parents, corner of North Fourth and Sixth streets, yesterday afternoon, and had an interview with her father and mother. According to their statement the girl started for school at the usual hour on Monday morning, accompanied by her younger brother. During the afternoon their uncle, Arthur J. Higguns, met the

Mr. Higgins declined to show the letter to the reporter, but assured him that the above was the substance of it, and that he recognized the handwriting of his niece. The reporter inquired of Mr. Higgins if he believed the girl had put for threat into execution. He reglied that he did not think she intended to drown hereef; that he believed the letter was written as a blind, possibly at the dictation of another. If she felt as she wrote, and intended to commit suncide, he shought the writing would reveal her agitation.

While the reperier was conversing with Mr. Higgins a little girl about the age of Annie came along, and was asked it she had seen the missing girl. Sue replied that she met her on Tuesday noon, near the corner of Norta Second and Seventh streets, only about two blocks from her home. She spoke to her, and received a replr. She also said that one of her companions thought she saw Annie

The time has come when these questions must be answered. Low rates of transportation are now a necessity to all classes of the people, and they must be had. Very little wheat is grown within 500 miles of tide-water. The great ficials for this staple are constantly moving west, and will soon be 1.500 miles ishand. Corn is not raised for export within 1,000 miles of New York.

The great arcienes of commerce can no longer be permitted to remain under the control of despots, whose will is law, whose charges have no reservence to cost, whose fixed purposa is to get all they can,
and who pay themselves an income on property which has cost them not ling, with the money ficined from those who labor nonearly for their bread.
How can the great necessaries of life be transported from the seats of production to the markets, and still leave a fair markin for profit to the proluter?
The solving of this prottem means, for the East, energy lood; for the interior, a reasonable profit to their proper account of its illimitable resources.

The foreign markets, as well as our own, are to be considered. The prices of brendstuffs in New York are regulated by trose in London. The compositors of the lown and alimnesta farmers are the which are represented by trose in London. The compositors of the lown and alimnesta farmers are the wheat growers of Humany and Russia. The railreads of fite two countries named have, within a few years, opened up immense grain growing distities, as productive as our own, and mech more fiverably situated in reference to the foreign markets.

We have nearly lost the monopoly once possessed

Just exaction. The innovements hade in the means of locomotion are daily and hourly leasoning the running expens so our railways stock, not a reduction in the cost of trusportation.

The termine moved has year equalled 180,000,000 tors. This year in 1851 it and not exceed 5,000,000 tors. This year increase is the creation of our railways within the past twenty years. The quintity moved shows the primary importance of this singlet. If a saving could be effected equal to lifty cents per ton, in the movement of this freight, the rain to the whole country would be $75,00,000 annually. There were raised in the United States the bast year 1,000,000,000, and this quantity would equal $10,000,000. If the cents per bushel would equal $10,000,000, if the cents per bushel would equal $10,000,000, if the cents per bushel would equal $100,000,000, if the cents per bushel would equal $100,000,000, if the cents per bushel to the business and wealth of the country.

How much must the rate be reduced to give this proof of the status wound double in quanty in a lew years—doubling the traffic of the railroads and adding largely to the business and wealth of the country.

How much must the rate be reduced to give this proof of the cents per bushel on eon grown one toousand miles from New York? Only acoust three mills per fon per mile, or one-tenth of a mill per bushel per mile! The railroads named could not only reduce their rateson earn three mills per ton per mile, but three time three, and still have abundant margin for profits upper three and the control of the scate of the same road. It is not hecessary to go far for the proof of this. Grain can be shipped by the Builingre and Ohio Rairend and the case of the same road earroad in some railroad in the foreign and the fatter heavy, and the latter beay, and the latter beay, and the same road carriad first class freight the past winter fifty early and its working expenses necessarily la

These railroad francis and swindles are not exclusively confined to the old roads, but there are series of new lines, staried by the merest financial adventurers, who build the roads, ros them of their land frants (where they receive any), mortgage them to the extent of twice their cost, and then issue, in addition to this, stock equal in min' instances to the amount of the bonds. In circular No. 6.1 propose to give a list of these new securities and of those who offer them for sale, and, by their flacing advertisements, try to entrup the public into buying them.

The remedy for such wrongs and abuses as these lies in Legislative action. What do managers living in New York care about the prices that the people pay for the transportation of their products? Nothing, except to got the highest rates. They are absences, and have no interests to be expected to, nor can they be reached on any ground of public consideration. But the States that gave there corporations their existence can regulate and extensively directed and eigned in this fixeter mitrouds are

RAND THEIR REMEDIES.

Railroads are vested with the right to take private property for public use. This prerogative of government is granted them in consideration of their public utility, but, as now conducted, they rarely fulfil their beneficent purpose. Labor and skill have removed the obstacles in the way of cheep and easy transit, and yet the farmer gets no profit on his products, nor the merchant or manufacturer on his products, nor the merchant or manufacturer on his wares.

DANGER AHEAD. A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small allments neglected may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first aymsdisorders. Bearing this fact in mind, let the first symptoms of debuity or nervous prostration be mot prompt in with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands Rostetter's Stomach Bitters, and whenever the vital powers seem to has mind functions essential to the sustendation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomace can digest; though not more, perhaps, that is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object under such elements and extremely of the frame. drenmstances is to increase the digestive capacity of circumstances is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimitating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as finst as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome elements. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of discusive power, the effect of the tonic is to sumulate a desire for foel. In ducteen cases out of twenty, headache, nausea, pervrusness, fainting fits, spasms, and, indeed, most of the casual sches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biffourness; and for both these complaints Hostetter's tomach Bitters are recommended as a speedy and cer tain remedy.
